MacArthur Talk Before Congress Gains House OK

WASHINGTON, April 16 (U.P.) — The house unanimously agreed today to hear Gen. Douglas MacArthur address a joint meeting of congress Thursday on the foreign policy crisis which led President Truman to dismiss him from his far eastern commands.

The senate, in recess today, was expected to act tomorrow to complete the arrangements for the formal speech by the ousted Pacific war hero, now in Honolulu on his way back from Tokyo.

The procedure in the house was agreed to by Democratic leaders and pushed aside a formal resolution proposed by the Republicans. The house acted by unanimous consent upon a request by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack. The senate was expected to do likewise, but under that procedure any senator could still insist on a resolution.

MacArthur, meanwhile, agreed to testify in a senate armed services committee investigation of his ouster at "any time" he addresses the joint meeting. The debate has not yet been set.

To Get Appointment

White House Press Secretary Joseph Short said MacArthur "certainly" would be given an appointment with President Truman if he asks for one.

The senate committee investigation begins Wednesday but probably will continue for some time. MacArthur's appearance for a question and answer session with that group probably will depend upon the generals' own plans, which include a New York celebration in his honor Friday.

Can Call Recess

The house action, taken without discussion, gave Speaker Sam Rayburn authority to declare a recess Thursday to hear MacArthur in the house chamber with the senate in attendance. The procedure makes the joint meeting non-official. Democratic congressional leaders talked over the program with President Truman at their regular Monday White House conference.

"I told the President we were going to be extra courteous to the general," Rayburn said.

Senate Democratic Leader Ernest W. McFarland, Arizona, said he believed the senate would join the house unless Republican Leader Kenneth S. Wherry, Nebraska, "insists" on a special resolution.

The senate armed services committee has ordered an investigation of the circumstances which led President Truman to dismiss MacArthur from his four far eastern commands.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., announced MacArthur's cabled reply to a request to appear. The cable was sent through Defense Secretary George C. Marshall.

City Taken as Allied Gains Are Reported

TOKYO, April 16 (AP)—Allied troops smashed into Yachon, nine miles deep in red Korea today and hammered out limited gains along the rest of the 150-mile North Korean battleline.

Communist resistance ranged from light to bitter.

Yachon is three miles northeast of Yanggu, the red supply base captured Sunday on the eastcentral front. About 50 North Koreans fled from Yachon before the attack. Then they stopped and threw mortar fire back into the town.

Farther east, South Korean troops occupied a high ridge north of Inje.

In the air war, F-86 Sabre jets twice tangled with Russian-type MIG-15s Monday afternoon. In the first air battle 16 F-86s mixed with 30 to 40 MIGs. American pilots reported two MIGs damaged and one probably destroyed. Later in the afternoon 18 Sabre jets clashed with more than 15 MIGs and chased them back across the Yalu river. The communist planes escaped damage.

Monday's score brought to 150 the number of communist jets destroyed or damaged in air battles since Nov. 1 when MIGs first appeared in Korean skies.

Since the Korean war started June 25 allied planes have destroyed or damaged 317 communist planes of all types. American losses for the same period are listed as 184.

The Sabre jets were also out on a strategic mission Monday. They dive bombed an important supply bridge across the Yalu river at Uiju, [illegible] Reds' first attack [illegible] was shorted.

American and Turkish soldiers made 20-day foot gain on the ground as the United Nations maintained the initiative across the Korean peninsula.

Turks hiked north into Yanggu Sunday afternoon after breeching strong Chinese and North Korean communist defenses.

The Turks massed troops and supplies there early last week, apparently in preparation for an expected counterthrust against the allies.

Train, Truck Collide At Heyburn Crossing

HEYBURN, April 16—Two Twin Falls county men miraculously escaped serious injury when their trailer-truck collided with a Union Pacific mail-passenger train here at 6:15 a.m. Monday.

The accident occurred at the crossing of state highway 25 and the branch line tracks from Rupert to Twin Falls. The truck driver, Ephraim Andst, Twin Falls, and relief driver, Duaine Boyd, Filer, were shaken up and received minor cuts. They returned to the accident scene after receiving first aid treatment by a Rupert physician.

Train Engineer E. A. Ohman said Andst evidently did not see the train until almost on the tracks, then he swerved his truck eastward along the tracks.

Truck Overturns

The right side of the truck collided with the locomotive, causing the truck to overturn. The trailer was remained upright, however. Force of the impact caused the train to uncouple from the locomotive, which dropped a fourth of a mile down the track.

After hitching up the train, it continued to Twin Falls.

Loaded With Groceries

The trailer van was loaded with groceries. It is owned by the Idaho-Pacific Foods Inc., Twin Falls.

Other train crew members were Bob Lykens, conductor, and J. R. Lattimere and E. J. Adams, brakemen.

Officers investigating the accident included Minidoka County Sheriff Floyd Stewart, State Patrolman Marvin Snyder and Burley City Officer Adrian Smith.

Monsanto's Plant To Be Built Soon

POCATELLO, April 16 (AP)—Construction of a Pocatello plant by Monsanto Chemical company may begin within three months, company officials said today.

A site for the plant has not been selected but a number are said to be under consideration. The Monsanto company has leased several hundred acres of land in southeastern Idaho and western Wyoming and will mine phosphate rock and shale.

Wool Price Again Plummets in East

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—Wool and wool tops futures dropped the daily limit of 10 cents a pound again today at the start of the second week of resumption of trading at New York.

Quotations declines in tops and wool futures now total 60 cents a pound since the market reopened last Monday.

There was continued evidence of hedging by dealers and mills against inventories.

21 CAP Airplanes Take Part in Search And Rescue Tests Over Rough Terrain

HAILEY, April 16 — Twenty-one CAP airplanes and members of civil defense organizations participated in a guard, forest service and Sun Valley ski patrol took part in three simulated searches and rescues near here Sunday.

Lamp black on the snow was used to indicate the targets for which the planes were searched. The airplanes had 144 square miles to cover. Each search was a success although not 100 per cent perfect. American Falls sent the largest crew to search. Its eight airplanes brought 18 persons into the rescue area.

Pilots from Twin Falls, Rupert, Richfield, Fairfield, Preston, Idaho Falls and Wood river took part. The Wood River CAP, W. D. Martindale commanding, was in charge of the tests. Martindale was assisted by LaVerne Hughes.

Among the CAP cadet units participating were those from Boise, Twin Falls, Idaho Falls and Hailey.

The first target was found by Kenneth Eldredge, Carey. By short wave radio he dispatched a national guard unit to the spot where three Hailey CAP cadets were waiting to be rescued. An airplane piloted by Hughes guided the search party to "safety."

The second target was not found immediately. Eventually Lowell Kinney, Twin Falls, was told that the target was in his area and he located it on Smiley creek over Galena summit. It originally was planned to effect a rescue from this target by means of an airplane equipped with skis. The plan was abandoned last week, however, when the airplane to be used in the rescue was damaged in a mishap.

None of the searchers could find the third target on Boulder creek so Col. Wilson Kellogg, Idaho CAP wing commander, went out and found it. No actual rescue was planned from this target.

At the scene, however, were "lokens" which had to be brought back before the search and rescue could be considered a success.

As soon as the target was sighted, Kellogg radioed his Hailey and Sun Valley ski patrol was dispatched. On the first part of its journey patrol members were carried by forest service trucks. Eldredge guided the searchers to the scene and then guided the rescue party out of the area. Radio contact between ground and air rescuers was maintained throughout the test.

In addition to Colonel Wilson other state CAP officers present at the search were Maj. Werner Goering, commander of the Utah wing; Maj. Ralph Hansen, liaison officer for the Idaho wing; Maj. Robert Vaughn, Idaho wing public information officer; and Sgt. Thomas Wood, acting liaison officer under Major Goering.

Airplanes taking part in the tests covered 5,000 square miles of rough country north, northeast and northwest of Hailey.

M'Arthur Completes First Lap of His Return to U.S.; Near Riot Clouds Landing

HONOLULU, April 16 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur arrived in Honolulu early today and a near riot raged near the ramp of his Constellation transport, the rechristened "Bataan."

Air force police manhandled news photographers trying to record the historic event. The five-star general, making his first trip to the United States in 14 years, remained aloof to the melee. The scuffle raged a few feet behind him as he shook hands with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Hawaii's Gov. Ingram Stainback and Army Secretary Frank Pace, jr.

At least a dozen photographers were roughed up by the air force police. They included AP's Paul Strong, San Francisco, and Carl Mydans, Life magazine. Mydans has been a personal acquaintance of MacArthur since before World war II.

The "Bataan"—it was "SCAP" before MacArthur was stripped of his commands — touched down at Hickam air field at 12:28 a.m. (3:28 a.m., MST). Seven minutes later the general set foot on American soil for the first time since his 1950 Wake Island conference with President Truman.

With the deposed supreme commander were his wife, his 13-year-old son, Arthur, and aides and staff members.

Crowd Cheers

As MacArthur's plane turned broadside into the floodlights of Hickam field the crowd gathered at the airport began to cheer and clap.

Mrs. MacArthur appeared first at the doorway of the plane. Behind her the general waved, his face wreathed in smiles for a brief moment. He is homeward bound for a war hero's welcome and an unpredictable battle over U. S. policy in Asia.

He followed Mrs. MacArthur down the ramp. Young Arthur was at his side.

Lei Given Wife

A lei, the traditional flowered wreath of Hawaii, was hung around Mrs. MacArthur's neck. The family disappeared for a moment in the crowd of official greeters.

The photographers were trying to get a clear picture of the general's

Solon Urges New Atomic Weapon Use

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Representative Gore, D., Tenn., indicated today the United States has perfected "tactical atomic" new atomic weapons to spread deadly radioactivity. He urged President Truman to order their use in Korea.

Gore telegraphed Truman to use some of "these immense weapons" to "dehumanize" a belt across Korea—making it unfit for all life for a long time to come. A statement was issued by Gore's office.

Member of Panel

The Tennesseean has access to information about atomic developments as a member of the house appropriation's subcommittee which handles funds for the atomic energy commission.

He made public a letter in which he told Truman:

"Something cataclysmic, it seems to me, is called for. We have it.

"Please consider using it."

Both the AEC and military authorities are known to have been working on weapons which, without an A-bomb blast, would spread radioactivity far better than what was the first word from an official source that they are ready for use.

2 Suggestions

Gore offered two suggestions:

1. Remove all Koreans from a belt across the Korean peninsula and then dehumanize it by surface radiological contamination; and

2. Make available and ready for the far east commander a variety of tomic bombs and other weapons to repulse a submarine attack on our naval forces or any attempt to invade Japan.

"I have heretofore publicly, and in the privacy of committee counsels," he wrote, "expressed opposition to the use of atomic weapons and related weapons in the Korean conflict.

"But now, I believe the calamitous danger which we and the free world face requires some such forthright policy."

Army Officer Facing Court After Mishap

GOODING, April 16—Trial of Capt. Foster O. Rodda, U. S. air force, Drexel Hill, Pa., on a charge of hit and run driving, continued in the probate court of James F. Gossett in Gooding Monday afternoon.

Captain Rodda, in charge of a detail, Sheriff Guy Coles shortly after 10 p.m. Sunday two miles west of Bliss following an accident in which Terry Ranstrom, Pocatello, was injured. Ranstrom is in St. Valentine's hospital, Wendell, with a broken wrist and slight concussion.

According to Coles the two automobiles collided one mile west of Wendell shortly before 10 p.m. Sunday. Ranstrom's car was being driven by Carl Anderson, Boise, at the time of the crash. Captain Rodda was not along even though Ranstrom's car went off the highway and crashed through a guard rail.

Harold Fleener, Walla Walla, Wash., was fined $15 and $3 costs by Justice of Peace Frank Dice in Shoshone Saturday on a charge of running through a stop sign. Fleener was cited by Sheriff Earl Clayton following an accident at 10:40 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of highway 93 and a Shoshone street. Fleener's car collided with one driven by Earl E. Eden, route 1, Gooding, and owned by his father, George Eden.

Truman Advises Solons on OK of Yugoslavia Help

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—President Truman notified congress today he has authorized use of $20,000,000 of government funds to enable Yugoslavia to obtain critically needed raw materials for its armed forces.

In a letter to the chairmen of the senate and house foreign committees, the President asserted:

"The drought which gave rise to the need for (emergency food) assistance, . . . not only caused a shortage in the availability of food for consumption in Yugoslavia, but also has made it impossible for Yugoslavia to export the agricultural products with which Yugoslavia normally obtains the resources to pay for imports of critically needed raw materials."

The President told the congressional leaders it was essential to use $20,000,000 of funds appropriated under the mutual defense assistance act of 1949 to provide raw materials and similar supplies for Yugoslavia in amounts and kinds equivalent to certain consumption goods for supporting its armed forces."

Baseball Scores

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Rain washed out today's American league baseball opener between the New York Yankees and Washington. The game and ceremonies incidental to it, including the throwing out of the ceremonial first ball by President Truman, were postponed until Friday. The club also will play a night game Friday.

Student Draft Delay Set for Exam Studies

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP) — Selective service has decided to delay drafting of college men this spring until their test scores and scholastic averages have been calculated.

In disclosing this during a radio broadcast yesterday, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey also said he believes the "great mass of college freshmen will assemble freely next fall without interference" from the draft.

Thousands of Queries

Educators here said thousands of queries have been received from students worried by the fact that their school terms—and their scholastic deferments—may end before they can take the forthcoming aptitude test, or before their scholastic grades are out.

Students who score 70 or better in the test, or who are in the upper ranks scholastically, may be deferred by order to resume their education in the fall. However, many school terms end before the test date—May 26, June 15 and the 30 [illegible] Students who score [illegible] can be [illegible] by [illegible] amendment to the draft.

Hershey's hope, he did not say, impairs our plans for giving the tests or using the scores." The amendment says, in effect, draft boards are not bound by the aptitude tests in granting deferments.

The final draft law is being worked out now from differing versions passed by the house and senate. The senate bill has no provision similar to the amendment sponsored by Representative Kilday, D., Tex.

Early Burley Resident Dies At Age of 92

BURLEY, April 16—Emerson F. Melendy, a resident of Burley since 1913, died Saturday evening at the age of 92.

Mr. Melendy was born Sept. 17, 1858, near Thomson, Ill. He attended school in Mt. Carroll, Ill., and the North Illinois college at Fulton. He taught for two years in North Dakota and three years in Chicago while working for the Burlington railroad.

He married Kathryn Rumft at Baileyville, Kans., on May 30, 1893. He came to Oakley in 1911 and to Burley in 1913. Mrs. Melendy died in September, 1945.

He was a member of the Modern Woodmen and the A. F. and A. M. in Burley. He had been a Mason for more than 50 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Helen Rich, Burley, and Mrs. Marie Crump, San Bernadino, Calif.; three grandsons, Elwood Rich and Roscoe Rich, both Burley, and Jack C. Crump, San Bernadino, Calif.; and one cousin, Mrs. Carrie Ashton, Ft. Myers, Fla.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the McOmber chapel, Burley, with graveside services to follow. Friends wishing to do so may make contributions to the Melendy memorial fund. Burial will be in the Burley cemetery. Burley Masons will conduct graveside services.

Natural-Resource Loss Said Threat

WASHINGTON, April 16 (U.P.) — The United States faces the danger of "spiritual failure" unless it stops burning up natural resources so fast, Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman reported today.

Chapman said the nation must build up for defense in the same manner as it did to wage and win World War II. He said the nation must develop its resources at a faster rate than we are using now.

Chapman said the nation's [illegible] ment, under the present circumstances [illegible] economic [illegible] and [illegible] waste [illegible] said.

and honorary members, providing a series of advancements before a physician has a voice in medico-administrative details. The associate and executive staff are limited in number.

Credentials Committee

The hospital board will appoint a credentials committee from the clinical divisions of the staff. This committee will have the duty of certifying and recommending new members as well as reviewing professional conduct of all staff members as to reappointment and advancement.

The new by-laws also provide for dentists to practice in the hospital and sets up specific regulations concerning their practice.

Medical Council

The principal administrative duties of the new hospital are given to a medical council. Its members are three elected officers plus the hospital board chairman, hospital superintendents and heads of various staff sections.

The section heads are nominated by physicians in their particular section but the hospital board must approve their appointment. The medical council also may add to the list of hospital procedures requiring consultation and shall determine which staff members will be consultants.

Provision on Record

The by-laws provide that patients' records incomplete eight days after the patient leaves the hospital become delinquent. The physician in the case is notified by the records librarian. If the records are not completed in another six days, the physician can be denied hospital privileges until the records are completed.

Provision on Records

The hospital's pathologist is given responsibility for reporting all normal tissues removed in operations to the staff and administration. McGilvray said this assures reports and action on the removal of an excessive amount of normal tissue.

Citizens Praised

McGilvray pointed out a community seldom has a chance for another start and praised the interest taken by private citizens in the new hospital's construction and administration. In recent months more than 300 groups have inspected construction progress. In other comment he stated:

"This area is particularly fortunate to have people on its hospital board who realize a hospital is more than brick and mortar and who have made it their duty to learn all possible about their responsibility for patient care."

All Sojourners Welcome

First Part of Trip Finished By M'Arthur

around the controversial military leader.

Mrs. MacArthur was dressed in a purple suit and was grinning broadly as she descended.

The general was wearing an olive drab uniform with an aluminum battle jacket. His head gear was his famous sun tan gold leafed hat. Arthur was wearing a dark beanie cap and a red jacket.

Followed by Adviser

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Sid Huff followed them out of the plane. Huff was one of the general's closest personal advisers in his Tokyo commands.

A limousine waited on the runway for the MacArthur party.

The general and his family were taken to Radford's guest house in the Pearl Harbor area to sleep and rest until time for Honolulu's welcoming ceremonies this afternoon.

Official greetings at Hickam field were limited to high army and navy brass and four civilians. The civilians included Pace, Stainback and Mayor John Wilson of Honolulu.

No Statement

Hickam spokesmen said MacArthur had changed his mind and would not release any statements.

After 24 hours in Hawaii the plane will carry him on to San Francisco, then to Washington where, in the halls of congress he will tell his side of the great dispute that resulted in his dismissal by President Truman.

Lieut.-Col. Anthony Story, MacArthur's pilot, said the 3,884-mile trip from Tokyo was uneventful.

Great Tribute

MacArthur left Japan amid a great tribute from the Japanese people he ruled and allied forces he commanded.

Fourteen minutes later his successor, Lieut.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, moved into the same plain headquarters office from which MacArthur ruled Japan for five years and seven months.

The Japanese gave their conqueror the greatest acclaim they have ever shown a foreigner.

Streets Jammed

Between 500,000 and 1,000,000 people jammed the streets for a final glimpse of the Kimberly Charlatan of the general's 12-mile motor trip to Haneda airport.

Military associates gave MacArthur a 19-gun salute from stubby howitzers. They said he was entitled to two more rounds than any other living American general, because he had served as supreme commander for the allied powers.

Emperor Calls

Emperor Hirohito called on the general at noon for a farewell visit that lasted 45 minutes. The emperor had visited MacArthur in the American embassy 10 times previously, but all those calls were on business matters.

The general could not have had a more triumphant exit.

MacArthur plainly was moved. He held himself with extra erectness. His face was quick, tense smile.

Mrs. MacArthur seemed on the verge of tears.

Leave Sadness

MacArthur left behind sadness among the officers and men of his command — and their wives — who crowded by the hundreds around the edge of the airfield to see his departure.

Maj. Martin W. Baumgartner, a Protestant air force chaplain from Fort Wayne, Ind., put it this way:

Genuine Regret

". . . What impressed me most was the genuine regret in the eyes of the people here. What I saw in their faces was, to me, the greatest tribute ever paid any living American in our time. The tears were really there."

The Japanese did not applaud or cheer. They stared in a silence broken by what sounded like a prolonged and continuing sigh. They waved the Japanese flags that MacArthur restored to them — many having only crayoned red balls on white paper.

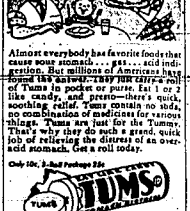

Grangers Change Time of Meetings

RICHFIELD, April 16 — Summer meeting time for the Richfield Grange has been changed to 8:30 p. m.

New members of the Grange are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. William Genvenor and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams.

Mrs. Charles Sinclair has been appointed to represent the Grange at a meeting with the county agent to plan the Lincoln county canning kitchen.

Why Pass up Favorite Foods ...because of sour stomach?

Almost everybody has favorite foods that cause sour stomachs . . . acid indigestion. But millions of Americans have found that's unnecessary. They just take a roll of Tums in pocket or purse. Eat 1 or 2 like candy, and presto—there's quick, soothing relief. Tums contain no soda, no combination of medicines for various things. Tums are just for the Tummy. That's why they do such a grand, quick job of relieving the distress of an over-acid stomach. Get a roll today.

Twin Falls News in Brief

Events Postponed.

The potluck and social planned by the IOOF lodge and the Rebekahs have been postponed from Thursday until April 28.

Spielbergs Moving

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Spielberg, No. 4 Bellville apartments, residents of Twin Falls since 1912, are moving to Payette to be near their daughter, Mrs. W. M. Rowberry.

Disturber Fined

Earl Powers, arrested at 12:20 a.m. Monday by city officers for disturbing the peace in the 100 block of Main avenue west, pleaded guilty in police court Monday. He paid a fine of $15 and $3 costs.

Ex-Resident Visits

Cpl. Robert L. Bohrn, former Twin Falls resident now living at McCall, Nev., has visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bohrn. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Earl Bohrn. The corporal will be stationed at Great Falls, Mont.

4-H Club Course To Draw County Youths, Leaders

About 30 Twin Falls county 4-H club members and leaders are expected to attend the 4-H short course at the University of Idaho between June 7 and June 12.

During their five days at the university the club members will receive instructions from college and extension staff members in the university classrooms, laboratories and on the farm. They will live in university dormitories and have use of other facilities on the campus.

In order to attend, a youth or leader must have had one year of 4-H club work and must be at least 15 years of age. Cost of attending the course is estimated at $28, including transportation, room and board. Tuition is free.

The Twin Falls Kiwanis club has awarded "scholarships" for the course to Theressa Matthiesen, Filer; Dixie Richmond, Buhl, and Larry Pioth, Twin Falls.

Jailed

GOODING, April 16—Joseph Melton Macatas, Wendell, Monday was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent.

Macatas was arrested at 11 p.m. Saturday by State Patrolman Stanley Pace. The automobile he was driving is the property of D. Humphries, Gooding. He was arraigned before Probate Judge James P. Gossett.

Celebration

Rulon J. Schwendiman, chairman of the board of city commissioners, said Monday that at Monday night's meeting of the board of city commissioners he will propose that Twin Falls participate in the nation-wide honors for Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the general arrives in San Francisco Tuesday.

"About all Twin Falls can do is blow its siren," Schwendiman said. He will ask that local factories be requested to blow their whistles at the designated hour to be announced. Motorists also will be asked to blow their horns.

Pointing out that there is nothing political behind his recommendation, Schwendiman said MacArthur is entitled to the welcome as "one of our greatest heroes who has not set foot on his country's soil in 14 years."

Convene Wednesday

Townsend club No. 1 will meet at 3 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. Grace P. Collins, Wendell avenue. All friends and members are invited.

Kiwanis Club

Lee Crowley, Kiwanis member in charge of arrangements, pointed out that the appearance of the choir in Twin Falls is an annual affair and that there is no admission charge. The general public is welcome to attend, Crowley said.

Merwin Bagley, Twin Falls, is one of five vocal soloists appearing with the choir this year. Bagley will sing "Old Man River." He is a baritone.

Other outstanding students who will be with the choir will include Raymond Blatter, Oakley, violin soloist who will play "In The Still of the Night"; Doris Smith and Myrna Campbell, both of Buhl; Helen Sackman, Gooding, and James Martin, Arco.

Crowley announced that the choir would be heard over radio KLIX at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday.

"We urge all music lovers to take advantage of this free concert sponsored by Kiwanis," Crowley said. "The singers and other artists with the choir this year are outstanding."

Prof. Wesley M. Harris is choir director. The LDS tabernacle is located across from the city park at Fourth avenue east and Second street east.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Aldrich have returned home from a two-week vacation trip to Toledo, Ore., where they visited friends and relatives.

Man Fined

Roy Smith, arrested for drunkenness by city police at 8:24 a.m. Sunday, paid a $20 fine after he pleaded guilty in police court Monday.

Society to Meet

The Ladies Missionary society of the United Missionary church will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Porterfield, 1535 Kimberly road.

Permit Asked

George Bambock, 169 Quincy street, filed an application to move a one-family dwelling from his address to 644 Oak street with the city clerk Saturday. Estimated cost is $100.

Births

A son was born Monday at the Magic Valley Memorial hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Roholt, Twin Falls, and daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hine, Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ulrich, Hollister.

Rita Claims Visit

Lloyd Young, social security administrator here, announced Monday he will review claims at the Burley employment office from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday. He will be available at the courthouse in Rupert from 9:30 a.m. to noon Wednesday.

Pair Enlists

Demurrer Filed In Condemnation

A general demurrer was filed with the clerk of the district court Monday by J. H. Brandford, attorney for the Canyon corporation, defendant in condemnation proceedings brought by the city of Twin Falls on land in lot six, Holohan addition.

The demurrer asserts that facts in the complaint are not sufficient to constitute a cause of action in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant.

In its complaint filed March 27, the city said the action was being taken in order to extend Shoup street. The purpose of the extension is to provide further access to Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

J. S. DaVault Is Paid Last Honor

Funeral services for J. S. DaVault were held at 3:30 p. m. Monday at the First Pentacostal church. The Rev. C. E. Yadon officiated.

Music was furnished by a trio, Mrs. C. H. Yadon, Mrs. Gladys Hill and Mrs. Lois Caulder, accompanied by Mrs. Verneal Crossley.

Pallbearers were Chris Christopherson, Jack Rosenbunger, Gordon Hills, Morton Thompson, F. E. Yadon and John Conner.

Burial was made in Sunset Memorial park.

District Scouters In Jerome Meet

JEROME, April 16—A combination district meeting and training course for Scouters of the Jerome area was held Friday at LDS church with Frank Humbach, district chairman, and training committee in charge.

Harold Harris reported on the council camping committee in March and announced summer camp dates at Camp Lightfoot and Porcupine Springs as July 7-28 with third week at Lightfoot reserved for explorer units.

A Scouters training camp was set for June 9 and 10 and a district camporee for June 15 and 16, both at the Tom Clark farm west of Jerome.

Dale Munk conducted a training session for explorers assisted by W. R. Haslam. Verle Sullivan conducted the course for scout leaders on patrol method and program planning.

ANOTHER SHOWDOWN COMING UP

Shortly President Truman will ask congress for more economic aid to Europe under the ECA program. On April 1 we entered the fourth year of the Marshall plan, which is scheduled to be concluded on the same date in 1952.

There's always been bitter opposition to the program on Capitol Hill, and it will be stiffer than ever this time. For Mr. Truman's influence and prestige among the lawmakers appears to be at an all-time low.

On a strictly recovery basis, the opponents will find more support than usual in the current European statistics. Overall industrial production in Western Europe is running 40 per cent above 1938, the last full prewar year. Trade among these countries also is up 40 per cent, and exports to the rest of the world have jumped 50 per cent above 1938.

The story isn't quite so bright on the farm front, with agricultural output only nine per cent higher than 1938 and food supplies about even with prewar levels.

Britain already has ended its dependency on ECA funds. France is nearly as well off relative to prewar days, and Italy is pushing ahead to new highs. Only Western Germany has not yet matched prewar output—it is producing 85 per cent of 1938. But production there is sharply up since 1947.

If this is the picture, the question no doubt will be asked, what difference would it make if ECA funds were pared to the bone this year?

Those favoring extension of the plan offer one "big reason": Henceforth ECA will be largely devoted not to recovery but to beefing up the defense establishments of the North Atlantic treaty countries. Every dollar used to sponsor European arms production, they argue, ought to mean a dollar saved on arms output in the United States, and by assisting Western Europe to arm itself we would be encouraging the kind of self-reliance that the Atlantic nations must ultimately display if they are to be stable elements in a peaceful world.

But opponents of the plan do not see it that way. They contend these European countries have failed to demonstrate any great desire for this self-reliance we hear so much about. They're more inclined to believe these foreign countries have been playing us for suckers.

All of which adds weight to the even broader contention that we haven't any overall foreign policy at the first place—that we're stumbling around in a bog of confusion, tempering reality with appeasement.

CONGRESS DISCIPLINES TRUMAN

After three tedious months, the "great debate" over dispatch of more U. S. troops to Europe is ended in the senate.

As finally adopted, the senate resolutions on the issue approve the sending of four more divisions to become part of General Eisenhower's European defense army. But it is stipulated that no additional ground forces be committed without further congressional approval.

This probably does not have the force of law, and Mr. Truman can ignore it if he wants. But that it was incorporated in the resolutions at all represented a sharp defeat for the President.

No question about it, he invited a rebuff from congress when he declined to consult its leaders on the troops issue at the start. As an old senator, he ought to have known that the way to win the support of congress is not to ignore it.

The senate especially is jealous of its role in foreign affairs, and it responded as any observer might have predicted it would. The desire to slap Mr. Truman down was only whetted by the RFC disclosures and other events which plunged the President's prestige to a new low.

Now the senate has gained a measure of revenge against him. For the nation's safety, it would be best if the defeat administered him be viewed on all sides as a lesson for the President in how to get along with congress. It would be most unfortunate if it were taken to mean that the lawmakers ought to have any large role in military affairs.

The very least the lawmakers can do now is to order Mr. Truman properly disciplined and to get on with the far more important job of building an impregnable defense against Russian communism. The goal still may be reached. But it will never be attained unless the legislators put away their officers' caps and military maps and go back to their own knitting.

WASHINGTON GUZZLING

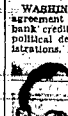

Sen. Robert Kerr, Democrat from constitutionally dry Oklahoma, wants to see cocktail parties banned as a Washington practice.

He thinks that capital guzzles too much hard liquor and that it dulls the wits and clouds the vision of men who ought to be at their best in these times.

If capital hosts and hostesses should follow his suggestion, there'd probably have to be a boost in Moscows' budget for espionage.

All reports indicate that the Russkies' agents pick up more free information at Washington parties than they could ever hope to get from cloak-and-dagger sleuthing.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON—The new treasury-federal reserve agreement on a more careful and cautious control of bank credit may turn out to be a merely academic political deal for the Truman and successor administrations. It should prevent the liberal and inflationary dishing out of money in which the White House or treasury has frequently indulged around election time.

The prolonged controversy over this question between Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder and former Federal Reserve Chairman Thomas B. McCabe has sharpened congressional and public interest in the whole problem of federal finances.

As it took a Kefauver committee to arouse concern over the alliance of criminals, police and politicians, so this debate has brought the complicated subject of government bond manipulation into the limelight.

"PROSPERITY"—It is not generally realized, but an administration can—and often does—create an artificial stimulation of business, industrial and agricultural activity by planned management of the bond market.

Through heavy purchases of federal issues, which increase the banking system's amount of cash available for lending, Uncle Sam can put money in the people's pockets and set off a spending spree.

Capitol hill surveys of movements in the federal bond market disclose that the administration resorted to this device in the presidential election year of 1948. Although there was no unusual need for money during this period, the federal reserve then under the domination of Secretary Snyder, bought more than $3,000,000,000 of securities which the banks betwteen June and November of that year.

It helped to produce the "prosperity" which President Truman boasted of in his campaign speeches through September and October, for it boosted banks' lending resources by $18,000,000,000.

OBSCURE—Subsequent operations substantiate this theory so thoroughly that each good administration supporter as Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Wyo., chairman of the joint congressional economic committee, has named a special subcommittee to survey and study this phase of federal finances.

It is the first time since the creation of the federal reserve system during the Wilson administration that congress has taken such action. It is further evidence that the legislators think it advisable to obtain more light on what is now a somewhat obscure and little understood government activity.

CREDIT—After the buying splurge during the 1948 campaign, the federal reserve turned right around and sold $7,000,000,000 of this amount of potential credit has been partially responsible for the post-Korean inflation.

Incidentally, in 1944, another presidential year, the reserve bought a total of $8,000,000,000 between February and November, although war expenditures helped to account for this activity.

MANIPULATION—With congress planning to keep a watchful eye on any strange manipulation of the federal bond market through the O'Mahoney subcommittee, which has a majority favoring a more conservative policy, it is doubtful if the federal reserve operations can be used for political purposes in 1952 or future years.

Again using the Kefauver analogy, the public has been aroused to what is in the long run is paid for those vote-getting flings through higher prices, taxes and in other ways.

CHARITABLE—Sen. John C. Stennis, Mississippi, recently made a ruling as temporary presiding officer of the senate that has endeared him to his colleagues.

When two members—Senators Hendrickson, New Jersey, and Smith, Maine—waited 14 hours before making permission to change their votes on a troops-to-overseas amendment, the question arose as to how much time should be given for reversing the voting record. The good-natured Stennis ruled that any vote cast at a current session could be changed at any time during that same session.

Nobody objected to this charitable decision, but Sen. William Langer, North Dakota, grinned.

"I remember a vote I cast seven years ago that I would like to rub out!" he said.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

WHAT NOW?

Can we fairly blame President Truman for limitations he cannot help? We doubt it. Truman is doing the best he knows how, but his best isn't good enough.

Where does the blame rest?

First, upon the late President Roosevelt, who knew his health wasn't good in 1944 and who knew Truman's limitations, yet permitted his nomination for vice president. Second, upon the millions of good American people who voted for Truman's re-election in 1948 after it had become perfectly clear that he wasn't up to the biggest job in the country at one of its most critical times. The second responsibility is even greater than the first, for we had a chance to change leaders and we didn't avail ourselves of it.

What now? We are in one of the Godawfullest messes in our history. We haven't a policy for the far east, the whole world knows it, and we have a President too stubborn to change his course even if he could see the need, which we doubt if he does. We have no chance to change leaders for 21 desperately crucial months.

Presidential ability to lead the people or the other branches of the government has sunk to just about an all time low and it is going lower every day. The ouster of MacArthur has started a new chorus of criticism which will probably reach a crescendo when MacArthur returns to the U. S. to air his grievances. Where it will all end only heaven knows and we suspect the more reverent than we usually are to believe even this.

And all because a Missouri county judge by some remarkable quirk of the American political process found himself in the throne and now couldn't abdicate even if he wanted to. Nor, we fear, can we, with our hides still intact.—Nampa Free Press.

WRIT OF ATOMIC CORPUS

Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission in mid-February addressed a meeting of lawyers sponsored by the school of law of the University of Pittsburgh on a provocative topic. His subject was "The Impact of the Atom on Law."

Mr. Dean in an informative treatise opened up a subject that may be of great importance to the legal profession in years to come. Legal aspects of the use of atomic energy for peacetime projects at home may be far-reaching; present laws were written without knowledge of atomic power.

There could be, for example, the case of the jet-propelled car whose driver stepped on his chain reactor instead of his neutronic brake and crashed into a truck loaded with uranium whose mesonic lights were not working properly. Who was responsible for the subsequent radioactivity which fried all the bananas in the corner fruit store?

Or the case of the minister whose atomic central heating plant got its signals mixed one Sunday morning and heated the small radiator by the pulpit white hot while the loft was left cold. Who could be held responsible for the protons found in the collection plate?

Then there might be the incident where a father applied punishment to his son in an appropriate place but a Geiger counter in the boy's pocket short-circuited and succeeded only in further firing the parent's indignation. Where would the responsibility lie for the boy's subsequent delinquency?

The possibilities seem limitless. They will be interesting to watch.—The Daily News (McKeesport, Pa.)

POT SHOTS

IT'S COLORFUL THOUGH

Dear Sir:

If our language were interpreted to mean just what we say, or if we meant just what we said and nothing more or less, we would be quite colorful people. I heard an example the other day. Here's what the man said:

"He eats like a horse and drinks like a fish."

Got a picture of that? Here's a man who gets down on all fours and eats hay, or perhaps someone comes along and puts a nosebag on him so he can eat grain. And what's the next daytime he gets thirsty? Why he leaps into a river and swims around under the surface until he drowns his thirst.

Does anyone want to argue that we DON'T have a screwy language?

TAKE IT STRAIGHT

Someone asked a waitress the other day why nearly all cafes have stopped using cube sugar. The answer was logical, but quite unexpected.

"Too much lump sugar is hauled away in pockets!" she explained. "It's the kids and once in a while some men and women," she added.

It seems sugar cubes are better than candy to lots of people. Sure, there's no variety of taste, but there's more sugar in a sugar cube than in the same amount of candy. And the waitress said lots of folks like it straight.

The waitress said youngsters used to come into a cafe where she worked, ask for a glass of water, then filch cube sugar by the handful when no one was looking!

CHANGED AGAIN

Most folks have lots of trouble keeping up with the official spellings of names. For instance is it Romania or Rumania? Peking or Peiping? It would seem there always is a change in the official spelling of someplace.

Hence we weren't too surprised recently when a note was forwarded by the Associated Press regarding changes in spellings for three more places. Taipei is now Taipeh, Vietnam has become two words, Viet Nam and Libia is now Libya.

The changes are based on new spellings by the National Geographic society.

But how can you expect Junior to learn his geography when someone keeps changing the names? Or do they teach geography in school nowadays?

FAMOUS LAST LINE

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—Where and when the storm now sweeping over Washington will end no one can predict. Not in a long time has there been anything like it. The telegraph boys are carrying bushel baskets of wires to practically every office in the senate and house and almost without exception they oppose President Truman's action in removing General MacArthur from his command.

Marquis Childs

The talk of impeachment was inevitable. Partly it is political in origin. But in the thousands of wires pouring into the capital it reflects a long pent-up fury and frustration.

Those who use the word glibly do not realize that impeachment is a solemn constitutional procedure rarely evoked. Only the house of representatives can vote on the impeachment of a President.

When an impeachment has been voted against a President, the trial is held before the senate, with the chief justice presiding. Conviction is on a basis of two-thirds of those present. The language of the constitution provides impeachment for "treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors." The supreme court never has interpreted that language.

When President Truman first came into the White House, he talked about the trials of one of his predecessors. That was Andrew Johnson at the end of the succession in the assassination of Lincoln and thereby inherited the tribulations that come in the wake of a great war. Johnson is the only President in our history to be impeached. By a margin of one vote the senate failed by the narrowest possible margin.

It seems most unlikely that anything so drastic will occur in this instance. Yet in the inflamed state of opinion in all the confusions and conflicts, double uncertainties that beset the American people, one must add that anything can happen.

In the present violent reaction there is plainly a current of unreason. Truman is the symbol on which long-stored-up wrath is being poured out. And that wrath probably traces back in part to the tensions under which we have been living in recent months.

Some so passionately for MacArthur seem to be for him in the belief that if he were only given his own way, he would find a magical means to end the war and bring peace to the Pacific. This does not, of course, conform to the facts. The MacArthur policy certainly would have expanded the Pacific war.

Whether it would have meant the start of World war III is another matter. The British were convinced Soviet Russia would honor its treaty of mutual assistance with communist China and come in if American planes attacked the Chinese mainland. MacArthur believed this danger was negligible.

Whether the storm goes to the point of action against Truman—and the Democratic party still has at least nominal majorities in both houses—its violence will not subside soon.

Quite apart from popular feeling, powerful engines of publicity are behind MacArthur. They will work night and day. MacArthur's return to America for the first time in nearly 15 years, his appearance before congress, the drama in his every word and gesture, all this will keep it going.

Behind MacArthur is the whole of the so-called China lobby. It has large resources of money, including the support of a half dozen Chinese in this country, most of them members of the Soong family, who are reported to have vast sums in banks in Switzerland, the Argentine, Holland and the United States.

It certainly is too early to say what the political consequences of the President's action will be. He is a stubborn man. The very force of the reaction might persuade him to reverse a decision not to run for office again if, as many believe, he has made such a decision.

One thing does seem fairly clear. Even though they may not be able to get at the President himself, his critics and attackers in congress can take revenge on his policies. And it is here, in my opinion, that there is the possibility for tragedy transcending any man's personal fortunes.

This violent quarrel can mean a further paralysis of government at a time when it is vital to rearm and through rearming to unify the coalition of western nations.

If we can't have our way in the far east, the extremists may say in effect to the President, then you will not get your way in Europe. Obstructionism under our system of divided powers can do a lot when there is no really responsible control in congress as between Republicans and Democrats.

Already the evidence of it has been ample in the congress. If it now goes on to impede vital measures, we shall have paid a terrible price for our divisions.

What will they dream up next? A New Jersey veterinarian specializes in scientific reducing diets for overweight dogs.

I don't know how they go about slimming a dog—but it might be interesting to see the English bulldog in a Turkish bath.

Bob Hope

This canine reducing fad may even lead to a radio show which would sound something like this:

"Hello, all you dogs out there. Are you overweight? Are you winded after chasing your own cat? Do you have trouble finding a collar to fit you? When you go to a dance, do you just stand there with your tail dragging? Then reduce with Dr. Dachshund's dandy pills. After one week, you'll lose so much weight you'll need an anchor to stay on the ground. And a special word to you St. Bernards: Stop drinking that stuff. It's fattening!"

And when the owner of a dieting hound catches Fido biting a neighbor, the probably says, "Stop that. You know you mustn't nibble between meals."

Yes, sir, the slogan in dogdom seems to be:

"Reduce and have a classy chassis . . . just like Lassie."

Home and Barnyard on Wheels Making Another Jaunt Through Magic Valley

True it is that covered wagons are thought of as traveling west but in this case the covered wagon is headed from here to Idaho Falls. That's less surprising than the happy-go-lucky Jack Ratliff and his home and barnyard on wheels.

The wheels, by the way, are Jack's only concession to modern day items —they're rubber-tired. Jack hails from Pritchett, Colo., and has quite an assortment of livestock providing both food and motive power.

First of all, there are the burros which pull the covered wagon, Jude, Kate and May. Their passengers are Hard Luck the Goat, Clovis the Dog, and Little Ben the Rooster, veterans of six years of travel.

Slung somewhat amidships under the covered wagon is a pen with a dozen chickens, which pay their freight by keeping Jack supplied with eggs.

Further back is a pen holding a couple of goats. Their milk pays their fare. Still further back, somewhere in the hay and feed department is a one-month old burro colt.

The profession's rear guard is made up of a sort of a spare tire in the form of a young burro, and a three-month-old burro kept in motion by the sight of hay dangling from the end of the wagon.

Jack pulls off to the side of the road along about mid-afternoon to feed his livestock and himself and get set for a night of sleeping mostly in the open. The interior of the vehicle houses his living quarters and cooking facilities. It has been his home 11 years.

Come morning, Jack calls some of his livestock and untethers the rest to continue his inspection of how the world is put together and what kind of odd characters people it.

Each day he sells a few postcards and other souvenirs and maybe some of the results of the multiplication of his livestock.

Jack was through here about three years ago about his usual business of lining up rodeo advertising using his equipage. Since then he has been to Florida. He spent last summer in Wisconsin and this winter in Arizona.

It was in Arizona that Jack's injured lungs healed. But the damage to his diaphragm keeps him from working. But you can't find a more content man than Jack.

He says he's the envy of a lot of people fighting a losing battle with the pressures this old world can put on a man.

U. S. FINDS OUT HOW MILD A CIGARETTE CAN BE!

After All the Mildness Tests, CAMEL Leads All Others by Billions!

Latest Published Figures Show Camels have Greatest Lead in 25 years!

There have been quick tests, trick tests and the sensible, thorough 30-day test for determining the mildness of a cigarette. The smokers of America, eager to find out which cigarette suits them best, have tried many of these mildness tests.

Now, after all this mildness testing, Camel has its biggest lead in 25 years of cigarette history! More people smoke Camels than any other cigarette by many billions of cigarettes per year! These statements are based on the latest published figures.

Find out for yourself how mild a cigarette can be. Make the thorough test of mildness. Smoke only Camels for thirty days. You'll enjoy every rich, flavorful puff. And you'll have proof of how mild Camels are, how well they get along with your throat!

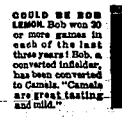

And you'll discover why Camel is America's most popular cigarette by many billions!

C for Crawford...C for Camels. On the stage, "Goodbye, My Fancy" was seen by thousands; the movie version, with Joan Crawford as its brilliant, beautiful star, will be seen by millions! Miss Crawford enjoys the cigarette so many of her fans do—America's most popular cigarette, Camel. "Camels have a wonderful flavor and they agree with my throat."

WHO IS THE BEST PITCHER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE?

IS IT VIC RASCHI? Vic finished last year with a .724 record... Vic says the best cigarette in any league is Camel. "You can't beat 'em for flavor —and they're mild!"

COULD BE BOB LEMON. Bob won 20 or more games in each of the last three years! Bob, a converted infielder, has been converted to Camels. "Camels are great tasting and mild."

GIL HILL, FLORIDA, who won 22 games in 1949 and eight in 50 if again ... like so many baseball stars, Mel is a Camel smoker. "I like the taste and they get on fine with my throat."

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT IN COAST-TO-COAST 30-DAY MILDNESS TEST!

Not One Single Case of Throat Irritation due to smoking Camels!

How thorough can a mildness test be? In a coast-to-coast test, hundreds of men and women smoked only Camels for 30 days. Each week, noted throat specialists examined their throats—2,470 examinations in all—and reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

Argument on Files Blocks OK of Board

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—A reported argument with the White House over access to FBI files is said to be blocking senate action on President Truman's nominations to the subversive activities control board.

A session in close touch with negotiations—for the documents said today "the situation would have been cleared up weeks ago if the President had been willing to cooperate and turn over those files to congress." The senator asked not to be named.

Asked Long Ago

"Long ago," he told a reporter, "the senate judiciary committee asked for the reports on the loyalty investigations the FBI made of the President's nominees to the control board.

"The committee was told the reports had been sent to the White House and that the matter would have to be discussed with (presidential aide) Clark Clifford."

The White House proposed, the senator said, that the FBI documents be made available for examination only by the committee chairman, Senator McCarran, D., Nev.

Not Satisfactory

"The committee turned that down as not at all satisfactory," this informant said.

"Then the White House offered to let the chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the nominations look at the reports. That offer also was rejected.

"At present, negotiations are centering on whether the reports can be made available to all of the subcommittee members. Whether anything comes of that remains to be seen."

Reorganized LDS Conference Ended

BOISE, April 16 (UP)—Speakers at concluding sessions of the semi-annual Idaho district conference of the Reorganized LDS church told delegates "the second generation in the church should be stronger than the first" and they "must not forget to win the children whose parents are members of this movement."

The conference, which began Friday, ended last night.

Elder Paul M. Hanson, president of the quorum of 12 apostles of the church, said "the second generation in the church should be stronger than the first and the third generation stronger and more firmly established yet."

The growth of the church in recent years was outlined by Elder W. Wallace Smith of the church's first presidency.

Lee Slates Topics For Utah Session

SALT LAKE CITY, April 16 (AP)—Tax proposals, school finances and the state crippled children's hospital will be among problems considered by the special session of the Utah legislature June 5.

Governor Lee said today he would ask lawmakers again to approve use of the $700,000 hospital by the state public health service. The 1951 regular session killed a measure to permit the hospital to be used in other medical capacities by the health board.

Since then, an old building in which the state health department now houses its crippled children's service has been condemned as unfit for occupancy.

Nampa Suspends Engineer of City

NAMPA, April 16 (UP)—City Engineer Clark Murphy was suspended over the week-end in effect for the remainder of his term by the Nampa city council following a special session Saturday.

Mayor Peter E. Johnson said the councilmen attributed Murphy's suspension to a letter allegedly written by him to a Minnesota bonding company, relating the method being used here for installation of sewer interceptors and laterals.

A new mayor and new councilman will take office here tonight. Murphy reportedly was in Portland, Ore., on a business trip when his suspension was announced.

Reporters Given Quotes Warning

TOKYO, April 16 (UP)—War correspondents were warned today they would subject members of the armed forces to court martial if they quoted them in dispatches about the policy dispute which led to the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

A memorandum to correspondents signed by Lieut.-Col. Carl A. Williamson, Sr., public information officer of general headquarters cited articles of war 88 and 89.

The memo said articles "express the restraints imposed upon the fundamental constitutional right of freedom of speech incident to membership in the armed forces."

The Missouri-Kansas-Oklahoma zinc field turned out about a third of the zinc needed for U. S. munitions during World war II.

Hank Can't Shed Old Habit of Picking Baseball Race Finish

By HENRY McLEMORE

Old habits have a way of clinging to a fellow, like ivy does to a Sir Christopher Wren designed pool room.

It has been more than a decade since anyone carried the ball for me (if they ever did) about how I felt about the way the teams in the American and National leagues would finish the season.

I daresay there isn't a person, including my mother, who gives a continental hoot about my selections for 1951. But if I didn't make these selections I'd break out in spots the size of skating rinks.

McMore

That's habit for you.

With the major league opening today, I have my picks all picked, and I'd bet your bottom dollar they turn out right. So be sure to save some of your colored comics to snap me taking bows at home plate when the world series opens next October.

My choice in the National league is the New York Giants. I don't pick them because I think Maglie and Hearn will pitch the way they did last year, or because Durocher is one of the great managers of all time.

I pick them because the Polo grounds is closer to my home than any other New York baseball park. I can leave my home 20 minutes before game time and arrive in time to see the first Giants pitcher going to the showers.

That puts the Giants close to my heart, as well as to my home. If I picked the Phillies or the Braves or the Cubs I'd have to catch a train and spend my holiday money for trainfare.

In the American league I go for the Yankees. I pick them for almost the same reason as I pick the Giants. Next to the Polo grounds, the Yankee stadium is the nearest ball park to where I live.

In 30 minutes after I leave home I can hear Casey Stengel barking, Bill Dickey telling Yogi Berra how to keep his feet in line back of the plate, and Joe DiMaggio telling reporters how he is tired of traveling and packing a suitcase for $100,000 a year.

If I didn't have my own peculiar method of picking baseball winners I would be forced to name Brooklyn and Boston to meet in the world series. Between them, the Bums and the Red Sox have the good ballplayers than any other four teams in both leagues.

They always lead in everything but games won. When the clutch comes they manage to choke up like a seal fed a barracuda after playing "Annie Laurie" on the cornet or juggling three dinner plates.

I pick the Bums and the Red Sox to finish second, but no better.

As for third, who cares? But just in case somebody does, I'll give 'em to you.

The Phillies in the National, and the Clevelands in the American.

Getting down to fourth place, I select the Cards in the National, and the Tigers in the American.

If one man could make a ball club I'd have to select the Cards, for Stan Musial, no matter the salaries paid, the Cards have the best player in the business. He makes less than Williams and DiMaggio, but he outclasses them both. While Williams razzes the fans, and DiMag nurses a bad heel, Musial just keeps banging those base hits. The only thing about Musial that makes the headlines is his bat.

I hope one of the great sportsmen in baseball, Briggs, sticks with Red Rolfe. Give Red time and he'll restore Detroit to its great baseball days. He is as much a gentleman as he was a slugger, and that's saying a lot. Try to name a better third baseman.

The second half can take care of itself.

As for a new commissioner, my guess is that the owners will settle for a capable clerk. Baseball's national pastime supposedly but the owners want to run it, and not put it in the hands of a man who can tell them.

Junior Officers of State Banks Meet

BOISE, April 16 (AP)—Some 200 junior officers of Idaho banks met today for their first annual convention.

The conference was originated to give young bankers and future executives a chance to become better acquainted with each other and with banking functions in other communities.

Speakers for the convention are Joseph Cornelius, Spokane, an executive councilor of the American Institute of Banking; Harold Ellsworth, Idaho director of the U. S. savings bonds division; Paul L. Danforth, New York City, assistant treasurer of the Manufacturers' Trust company; H. Sherman Whitlock, deputy director of selective service for Idaho; Fred E. Pike, Salt Lake City, vice president of the Walker Bank and Trust company, and Marshall N. Dana, assistant to the president, United States National bank, Portland.

Jobless Benefits Drop for March

BOISE, April 16 (AP)—The employment security agency paid out $356,258 in unemployment insurance benefits during March—less than half the amount paid out for the same month a year ago.

Benefits in March, 1950, amounted to $793,125.

The ESA said its fund balance now amounts to $27,649,823, nearly $5,000,000 more than at this time in 1950.

There were 1,635 initial unemployment claims filed in March, compared with 2,150 for March, 1950.

Boiseans to Vote

BOISE, April 16 (AP) — Boiseans will vote tomorrow in a run-off election for mayor.

Candidates are incumbent Mayor Potter P. Kelly and Russell P. Edelfson, two top candidates in the April 3 balloting. Edelfson is an engineer with the state highway department. Howard is in the automobile business.

Custodians of Boise Schools Start Walkout

BOISE, April 16 (AP)—Janitors and custodians of Boise schools went out on strike today, but Supt. Zed L. Foy said "business is proceeding as usual."

Despite picket lines at all schools, custodians and substitute janitors are on duty at all of the 18 buildings, he added.

During the first hour in the morning all schools were opened and reports of teacher absences because of the strike.

Union leaders said 25 school employes are on strike. This agreed with an estimate of school officials.

Construction Halted

Construction work on additions to three schools also was halted when workmen respected the pickets.

The major issue is recognition of Building Service Employes local 318 (AFL), as the bargaining agent for the school janitors and custodians, said Carl Bowden, chairman of the school trustees.

Opposes Recognition

The board does not believe such recognition to be in the best interests of either the school district or the taxpayers generally," he added.

James Nyborg, president of the union local, said, "We want to assure teachers that we will not settle with the school board as long as there is any possible discrimination against those teachers in our picket lines."

Caught on Issue

Bowden said State Labor Commissioner William Robison had done everything within his power to avert the strike, but was caught on the issue of recognition of the union.

A prepared statement from the Boise Trades and Labor council said the strike followed "continued refusal of the school board to meet with representatives of local 318 and discuss provisions of a working agreement."

Fred H. McCabe, council secretary, said the janitors voted last fall to have the union serve as their bargaining agent.

Honor Court for Scouts Conducted

RUPERT, April 16—Scouts from Acequia, Paul, Heyburn and Rupert received awards at a recent court of honor at the courthouse.

Officials in charge were William King and Elmer Anderson of the advancement committee of the Minidoka division of the Snake River council.

Receiving second class badges were Delwin Jensen, Gerald Hall, Gayle Anderson, Jack Parker, Lyle Poole, Richard Sullivan, Donald Cartwright, Ronald Reynolds and Jerry Sonne.

First class badges went to Michael Tanner, Vern Van Every and Royse Jensen.

Three Scouts received star Scout badges. They were Eugene Stewart, Larry Nielsen and Kenneth Allon.

Merit badge awards went to Bob Anderson, woodcarving, horse repairs; Kenneth Alton, woodcarving; Marlin Jones, first aid; Meldon Anderson, private, swimming; Larry Nielsen, reading, horse repairs, woodcarving; Bill Moeller, rabbit raising, reading and cooking; Jack Parker, reading, home repairs and woodcarving; Page Crandall, carpentry.

No Unusual Lamb Losses Reported

BOISE, April 16 (UP)—No unusual death losses were reported among early spring lambs, which were dieing well on April 1, the U. S. agriculture department said today.

The department said there would be about the same proportion of early lambs as in recent years. The animals were delayed in getting to ranges because cool weather slowed growth of grass.

Discussions Held By Study Group

RUPERT, April 16—A roundtable discussion was held by the Pershing PTA study group Thursday afternoon at the annual meeting for parents of pre-school children.

Laura Mae Bertsche, primary advisor and consultant from BICE, led the discussion. The program was arranged by Bertha Nutting and Mrs. Rena Ason, Mrs. Flora Fenton, and Mrs. Martha Dawley.

Topics discussed at the roundtable were physical preparation for school, emotional problem of the child, speech and speech defects, habit formation, social relations, worth while experiences, muscular coordination and cooperation between school and home.

Solon Called To Trial for Political Aid

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Republican Rep. Walter E. Brehm, Ohio, a member of congress for more than eight years, was summoned to trial today on charges of illegally accepting political contributions.

He was indicted on charges of illegally receiving $1,380 in contributions from Mrs. Ann Solliday and Mrs. Emma S. Craven while they were clerks in his congressional office.

Received in 1947-48

The contributions allegedly were received by Brehm in 1947 and 1948. Neither Mrs. Solliday, a 75-year-old widow from Logan, O., nor Mrs. Craven are under indictment.

Brehm, 58, contends he is innocent.

A practicing dentist for 25 years before coming to congress, Brehm now is serving his fifth successive term as representative of the 11th Ohio district.

7-Count Indictment

A federal grand jury last December returned a seven-count indictment, charging Brehm with unlawfully accepting two contributions from Mrs. Solliday, one of $240 in late 1947 and another of $140 in early 1948, and five $200 donations from Mrs. Craven, all in 1948.

The indictment contended these alleged contributions were "for the political purpose of assisting in the financing of Brehm's campaign for reelection."

Officers Selected By Church School

BELLEVUE, April 16—Mrs. Oscar Schaufelberger was reelected Sunday school superintendent of the Community Presbyterian church at a meeting conducted by the Rev. William Perdue, moderator of the Twin Falls Presbytery.

Other Sunday school officers are LoRene M. Larsen, treasurer; Judith Ann Schaefer, secretary; and Mrs. John M. Wright, assistant superintendent.

Elders are Mrs. Schaufelberger, Mrs. Wright and Nick Werry.

Installation Held By PTA Council

RUPERT, April 16 — Mrs. Larry Griswold was installed as president of the Minidoka county PTA council Thursday afternoon at the school auditorium. Mrs. Vaughn Bair, president of fourth district, was installing officer.

Mrs. A. H. Stevenson was installed as vice president; Mrs. Cosby Thomas, secretary, and Mrs. Roy Francisco, treasurer. PTA convention from April 26 to 28 was discussed and Mrs. Griswold and Mrs. Stevenson were named as delegates.

Meyers Gets 1-Year Term In Tax Case

BALTIMORE, April 16 (AP)—Benjamin R. Meyers, cashiered air force general, was sentenced today to a year and a day in prison and fined $15,000 for evading $61,400 in federal income taxes.

The 53-year-old former major general pleaded guilty.

Meyers faced a maximum penalty of 30 years in prison and $60,000 in fines—five years and $10,000 on each of six counts in the two indictments against him.

Income for 3 Years

One of the indictments covered his income in 1941, the other covered 1942 to 1946, inclusive.

In that time, the government charged, he had an income of $306,556 and should have paid income taxes totaling $90,986. Instead, the government charged, he reported only $94,016 and paid only $29,586.

Meyers was top purchasing agent for the air force in Washington and at Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, O., during World war II.

He served 3 Years

He was freed from a federal reformatory—Feb. 1—after serving almost three years for indicting an Illinois banker to a senate investigating committee.

Meyers was the central figure of a sensational senate inquiry in Washington in the fall of 1947.

President Truman cashiered him on July 16, 1948. He already had been stripped of his retirement pay and legal medals, including the distinguished service medal and the legion of merit.

2 Valley Papers Win State Honor

MOSCOW, April 16 (AP)—All-state ratings were awarded 10 Idaho high school newspapers during the fifth annual high school journalism conference at University of Idaho. Presentations were made by Prof. Wayne Young, chairman of journalism at the university.

Papers receiving all-state ratings included the Reporter, Rupert, and Bur-Hur, Burley.

Youth Is Chosen For Scholarship

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The naval reserve officers training corps has announced selection of candidates and alternates from Idaho for four-year scholarships under the NROTC.

The candidates next must be accepted for admission by an NROTC college or university of their own choice beginning with the fall term of 1951. They include Gerald Reid, Burley.

SHOW POSTPONED

CAREY, April 16—Mrs. Floyd Rudolph, chairman of the minstrel show committee which planned to present a show April 20, announces that the presentation has been postponed indefinitely. The show was being staged by the Carey Women's Progressive club and directed by Mrs. LaVeva Cagle.

Many Will Enter Miss Idaho Event

BOISE, April 16 (AP)—The annual "Miss Idaho" contest June 26-28 is expected to attract a host of shapely and talented misses.

Mrs. Thomas Farrer, executive secretary of the Idaho pageant, said 11 communities and colleges have been authorized to enter contestants.

Entries will be sponsored by College of Idaho; Boise Junior college; Idaho State college; Lions clubs of Nez Perce, Nampa, Caldwell, Malad, Meridian and Montpelier, and Junior Chambers of Commerce at Burley and Lewiston.

Barbara Norton, Burley, was Miss Idaho of 1950.

Another Fatality Listed at Weiser

WEISER, April 16 (AP)—For the second time within a month, an elderly Weiser man was killed in an accident while walking across a Weiser street.

Marshall Brown, 78, died yesterday of injuries received Saturday when struck by an automobile. Police said the machine was driven by Wayne Henderson, Nampa.

March 30, Edward Ward, 72, was killed when struck by a car as he was crossing the street.

Weiser had no traffic fatalities in 1950.

Masons Meet

BOISE, April 16 (AP)—Master Masons from 19 southern Idaho counties gathered today for the 84th reunion of Scottish Rite Masons.

April Luncheon Given Saturday By AAUW Unit

The regular April luncheon meeting of the American Association of University Women was held Saturday at the American Legion auxiliary rooms. A buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. L. H. Perrine, hostess chairman. Her assistants were Mrs. Kenneth Reid and Mrs. Ed Tolbert.

Daffodils in a crystal and gold flower bowl, with yellow tapers in matching holders, centered the serving table.

A feature of the afternoon's program was a letter from Dr. Nel Knottenbelt, AAUW international fellow, read by Mrs. Russell Miller. Dr. Knottenbelt was a guest of the local branch last fall after she had completed her course at Johns Hopkins university hospital under an AAUW fellowship grant. She is in the University of Leyden hospital, Holland, in the new department of gynecology and urology. Dr. Knottenbelt wrote that she is the only gynecologist in Holland who has had the benefit of the special training she received at Johns Hopkins. She reports that special drugs for anesthesia, and other new drugs are now available in Holland.

Mrs. Earl Faulkner, branch president, reported the annual achievement award of $5,000 presented to Dr. Mary Hamilton Swindler, University of Michigan. The award was made at the fellowship section of the biennial convention of AAUW last week in Atlantic City, N. J.

Dr. Swindler won the award as a teacher of undergraduate students and of scholars in the field of archaeology. She will use the $2,500 for research in Greece and in Turkey where discoveries in the field of early Greek art will be studied.

Jessie Fraser announced that Mrs. Ruth Tooze, of Book Fairs, Inc., will display children's books in the basement of the library on May 10 and 11. She will consult with parents and teachers, and will tell stories to children, either in their schools or at the library rooms.

Florence Schultz, home demonstration agent, announced the "my favorite recipe" contest to be held in connection with national home demonstration week, April 29 through May 5. Meetings will be held in the old C. C. Anderson building on Second avenue and Second street west.

The May meeting will be a "potluck" luncheon with Mrs. W. A. Pray as hostess chairman.

Reception Held

DIETRICH, April 16—A wedding reception was given at the Grange hall last week for Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren. Edith Knowles, Eleanor Lipe and Murdo Gage sang songs. Helen Pitner, Ruby Warren, Mrs. Pete Warren and Mrs. Don Knowles assisted the honored guests open their gifts.

Service Project Is Completed by Camp Fire Girls

"Give service" is the third law of the Camp Fire Girls. When service is needed in the community, the Camp Fire Girls respond when it is possible to do so. When Mrs. Helen Bailey, of the Red Cross, expressed the need for baby clothing, particularly diapers, the Twin Falls Camp Fire girls started a diaper project.

Each Camp Fire Girl made a baby diaper for the project and more than 200 diapers have been turned over to the Red Cross and more will be handed in this week.

Groups participating in this community service were the Teowanki, Nankiya, Ookkiel, Canteesteyn, Mnywakanah, Hanekonza, Mokiwaga-Hangeyawa, Tawanka, Tackal and Tanda Camp Fire Girls. Kiwata, Aswatiya and Okihi groups of Buhl also participated in the project.

Two Blue Bird groups completing the work are Cornflower and Buttercup.

The project was sponsored by the Kawasi Camp Fire Girls. These girls sent the information on the project to all groups, and also collected the completed bundles. The Kawasi group was also the first group to complete dolls in the "dolls for friendship" project of the association.

Reflections

by White Mortuary

COULD YOU FORGET HIM?

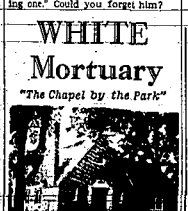

George Brown was a senior clerk in a County Engineer's office when he retired. He is what at one time would have been called, "The Forgotten Man."

How wrong that appellation could have been. George Brown has never been forgotten, will never be forgotten. You can't forget a man like him. George has a long list of friends with whom he corresponds regularly; he says, "That's my friendship cement." Another list are of friends who are shut-ins; these he calls by telephone. He says of these calls, "That's my sunshine to them." Could you, would you want to forget a friend like him.

"I'm only 71," he says, "and each day is more precious than the last. My friends," a big smile covered his face, "are more valuable than money. Anybody can get that, even steal it. But friends, you get by being one." Could you forget him?

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The mother of a left-handed child was told that because her daughter's handwriting was so poor (the teacher insisted she write with her right hand), she would be put back until she learned how to write. This put the burden on the mother, and so she looked about for some way to help the child.

Wondering what she could do, she remembered the frosted glass slate that she used to have as a child. She dug it out of a trunk, got the teacher to set a copy on a sheet of paper and had the child trace it, using her left hand. Before long the child's writing was as good, if not better, as that of most of the class.

Seldom nowadays does a teacher insist that a child use his right hand when he is plainly left-handed. If he can use his right hand all the better, because the world is set up for the right-handed. Doors, gates, machines, are made for right-handed people and life is smoother if the left-handed can use the right hand for such purposes. Often they can, because the operation calls for the use of larger muscles than writing demands. Writing requires nice adjustment of the small muscles of the hands and this is very difficult for the left-handed child which is asked to use his right hand.

Most experienced teachers agree that forcing a child to change handedness is likely to make trouble for him in language exercises. His reading may suffer and his spelling, or his use of words. To be on the safe side, it is best to let the child use the hand that comes naturally to him.

The use of the old-fashioned glass slate, if one can be had, is fine for giving a child a chance to trace and make copies of all sorts, because while it teaches form, it is helping the child to gain control of his accessory muscles, those fine little ones that control his fingers.

There are work books on the market that make busy work for little children. The pictures can be traced and colored and that helps them gain control of the hands. But when the book has been used once, it is finished. The old-style glass slate can be washed off, new copy placed under the glass, and a new project begun. It is a useful, constructive toy for a child.

Nursery school sometimes tries out talks in children never suspected by their parents. Shyness is a common occurrence. Dr. Patri discusses shyness and how to overcome it in his leaflet "Shyness." To obtain a copy send 10 cents to him care Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station O, New York 19, N. Y.

Miss Custer and Iowa Man Marry In Church Rites

The first Baptist church here was the scene of the wedding Thursday night of Donna Custer and William Burgan, Creston, Ia. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Custer and the bridegroom is the son of H. J. Burgan, Norfolk, Nebr.

Lighted candles and a basket of pink roses and pink and yellow carnations formed the background decorations when the Rev. Herman C. Ritter read the marriage service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she wore a navy blue suit with red accessories. The bridal bouquet of white roses centered with a baby orchid was carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. L. L. Goodman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a cerise crepe dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Leroy Custer was best man and Phillip Custer, brother of the bride, was usher.

Ruth Becher was soloist and Mrs. Dorothy Custer played the wedding music.

The bridegroom's mother wore a purple suit with pink accessories and the bride's mother wore a teal blue dress. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Following a wedding trip to Denver and Golden, Colo., the new Mr. and Mrs. Burgan will go to Creston, Ia., where they will make their home.

The bride is a 1949 graduate of Jerome high school. She is a member of Job's Daughters and Beta Sigma Phi.

The bridegroom attended Iowa State college, Ames, and served two years in the navy air corps in World war II. He is now employed as a civil engineer for the state of Iowa.

The bride was honored at several parties before her wedding. Mrs. Uba Allen, Mrs. Elmer Dossett and Mrs. J. L. Goodman gave a linen shower for her and Mrs. Martha Smith and Mrs. Lloyd Martin gave a kitchen shower.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Custer, Creston, Ia.

Activation for New Unit Set At Area Base

MOUNTAIN HOME, April 16 (UP)—The 580th air resupplying and communications wing, a unit of the U. S. Air force's military air transport service, was to be activated today at Mountain Home air force base.

The wing will be under command of Col. William O. Eareckson. It is one of several being organized and trained for the MATS for later duty overseas.

Officers said responsibility for organizing and training the new wing was assigned to the air resupply and communications service headquarters, Andrews air force base, Camp Springs, Md.

It was revealed that after training at this base, the 580th ARC wing would be sent to an overseas assignment, which will be determined later.

Details of the wing's activation were released last night. A reception was held for state and city officials, including Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Edson H. Deal, Boise Mayor Potter P. Howard and Mountain Home Mayor John Glasby.

THE BUSINESSMEN OF WENDELL DEFEND THEIR MAYOR

THE FOLLOWING IS A COPY OF OPEN LETTER SENT TO "STATEWIDE", BOISE:

April 9, 1951

Editor of Statewide
Boise, Idaho

Dear Editor:

The following buisness men of our city of Wendell, Idaho, regret that the article written by Vardis Fisher and published in your April 5th issue is misleading and apparently based on rumors and hearsay of disgruntled individuals.

Law enforcement is a problem in large and small communities. Our Mayor, Mr. R. D. Bradshaw, and the city council, and the Chamber of Commerce are doing all possible to make Wendell a safe place in which to live and trade and to give adequate protection to all our children.

We want everyone in Hagerman Valley and others throughout Wendell area to know they are most welcome and their business appreciated. "We ain't mad at nobody" and we hope all Gooding County will continue to grow and prosper.

In every city and Community there will always be some difference of opinion as to administrative policies. However, none of us subscribe or endorse any such statements made by Mr. Fisher regarding our Mayor. Mr. Bradshaw's oath of office is to uphold law and order. We are gratified and pleased to know we have a man heading our community who has the backbone and courage to carry out his duties and obligations in a just and impartial manner.

Your paper has seen fit to publish Mr. Fisher's article; therefore, we ask that you acknowledge this letter by publishing same including the following names and give it equal prominent space:

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB GILLIAM

If you are one of those hunters who have roamed the hills for several seasons now without hitting on a deer and if you can afford it, start making plans now for a hunting trip into the middie fork of the Salmon river this fall.

The deer are plentiful — too plentiful in fact. The middle fork herd must be trimmed in numbers. There are so many animals using the winter range in the area that the fish and game department considers the region a critical one for game management purposes.

— Gilliam

This is no fad; but the catch is the monetary angle. It is not possible to drive into the middle fork. A pack string or an interested air transport will need to reach the abundant region.

At Bellevue Saturday during the fourth district sportsmen's meeting, game department officials and forest rangers joined with sportsman from the immediate area in searching for a solution to the overpopulation of deer.

The proposal that a two-deer hunt be put into effect again in the region drew a lot of support. This would allow hunters to take two animals from the middle fork instead of the legal one. There are merits for this argument, but we believe it would not be right.

Hawley Hill, Jerome, fourth district conservation supervisor, and the man who knows the deer hunting problems of the middle fork better than any other person in the state, thought a two-deer hunt was not the answer.

After a good deal of debate with good thoughts being given by both sides, it was agreed that the season should be extended a month longer than in other regions. The sportsmen recommended that the middle fork season extend to Dec. 31 this year. This proposal probably will be approved by the fish and game commission.

The sportsmen and game department officials also agreed that more publicity should be given to the middle fork and its deer herd, with the hope more hunters will go into the area. Not only would this help thin the herd down to a healthy point, but would help take a certain amount of hunting pressure off more easily accessible hunting areas.

Summer range land is ideal for the deer in the middle fork herd. *The herd increases fast and every*thing is fine, except when heavy winter snows hit.

Then the animals are driven down from the surrounding high mountains and valleys into a narrow strip along the river. Here mother nature is not able to produce enough food for other feed to keep the herd healthy.

A tough winter will see many animals die of starvation. Others, weakened because of a lack of sufficient food, become easy prey for predators. As a result, the whole herd suffers.

Realizing the problem, the fish and game department has undertaken every step possible to aid nature in producing feed. Hay and grass seed has been planted on the slopes, in addition to a giant project of planting 10,000 cuttings of browse brush.

It will take several years before this work matures into the needed extra food on the winter range.

The critical condition could hit a high mark next winter unless the herd is thinned down this fall. The past winter was unusually mild. Most animals survived in good condition and everything points to a big production. A hard winter would see quite a game management problem.

As one forest service official said, "No matter how you look at it, a deer is dead whether he is killed by a hunter, dies from lack of food in a hard winter or is killed by a predator. Hunters might as well do the job."

Bear all of this in mind this year when you are planning a hunting trip. In all probability you will hit on a deer, if you can point a gun, and will be seeing some unexcelled rugged scenery.

Sun Valley Skier Wins in Vermont

STOWE, Vt., April 16 (AP) — A snow storm failed to confuse Madi Springer-Miller, Sun Valley, Ida., yesterday. She won the class A women's annual sugar slalom run on Mt. Mansfield in a time of 1:57.4.

Otto Lanhar, Mt. Mansfield, won the men's open event in 1:40.4. More than 140 skiers whipped down the one mile course.

That's Right

CAMP PICKETT, Va., April 16 (AP)—It took three burly sergeants to escort umpire, Pvt. Noel B. Fuquay off the field after a softball game here. Seems the umpire had called some questionable plays.

"I call 'em as I see 'em," Fuquay told his critics.

The army revealed Thursday that Fuquay is being given a medical discharge, "the reason? Poor eyesight.

Stockton Scores Last Inning Run To Nip Cowboys

STOCKTON, Calif., April 16—Stockton broke a tie score in the last half of the ninth inning here Sunday afternoon to nip the Twin Falls Cowboys 4-3 in a well-played spring exhibition game. The Cowboys erupted for three runs in the first inning, forcing Stockton to play uphill all the way.

The Pioneer leaguers, entering their last week of spring practice, move up to San Jose Monday night to take on the strong Boston Red Sox farm team in their last California game. The Cowboys return to Boyes Springs for a final three days of drills and then play a Friday night contest in Reno before returning to Magic Valley.

Opening the game for the Cowboys, Manager Don "Jeep" Trower gained life on an error, Woody Held, bright rookie centerfielder, followed with a single to center.

Warren Moore, the veteran third baseman whose recent heavy hitting has been among the highest on the team, singled to right to send Trower around with the first run. Nils Johnson, who was sleeping bat also has awoke in recent days, blasted another single to score Held and Moore.

From that point, Earl Escalante, ace Stockton hurler and former Pacific Coast leaguer, limited Twin Falls to four scattered hits.

Stockton hopped onto the offerings of Dick Tretter for one run in the first inning and one in the third. Tretter hurled four innings, allowing two runs and five hits.

Ronald Goode, the Twin Falls left-hander captained down from Kansas City, completed the game and took the loss. He was touched for two runs, one in the seventh and one in the ninth, and gave up five hits.

Escalante, who played his first year of pro ball in 1941 in San Jose, started the ninth inning only for Stockton with a single. Jackson singled and Solari, attempting to bunt, popped out to Goode. Garbey fanned for the second out of the inning.

Then Buster Adams, another veteran of Pacific Coast league ball, rapped out his fifth hit in five times at bat, to send Escalante around from second.

Cecil Hamilton fitted the ball to catcher Cecil Hamilton. The play was close and the umpire called Escalante out, then changed his decision allowing the run to score and giving Stockton the victory.

The Cowboys, led by the fiery little Trower, displayed mid-season form with nine safe blows. Held collected three and Johnnie Held rifled the ball to centerfield.

Johannsen led the Cowboys at the plate with two hits. Other safeties were collected by Jack Buckowata, Trower, Held, Moore and Tretter.

Dick Milne, who pulled a muscle in his side last week, continued to hold down first base, although a retired Boise man, Jim Gallup, coming from Florida, is four days overdue in reporting. Milne will be carried as the club's utility man this season.

Qualifying Round Continues for First Golf Event

Qualifying round play reached the mid-point Sunday at the Twin Falls municipal golf course for the annual spring best ball tournament. Golfers may play until 4 p. m. today to complete the qualifying round.

The first round will be played next Sunday, with pairing for the day announced in the Times-News of that day.

CCNY Drops Grid Sport as Activity

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—City College of New York (CCNY) announced it would stop playing football until such time as adequate practice and game facilities and appropriate finances are provided."

CCNY is the 20th college to drop football since the 1939 season because of the national emergency or for financial reasons.

Veteran Manager, Young Players May Put Some Spark in Lowly Boise Club

By BRIAN CORCORAN
Sports Editor, Boise Statesman

ATWATER, Calif., April 16 (AP)—Tom Lloyd, hulking veteran of 14 years in professional baseball, has some definite ideas about his 1951 Boise Pilots.

The new Pilot manager vows "we'll outhustle any team in the Pioneer league.

Training at this central California community, Lloyd's club has been slowly rounding into playing form.

The presence of Lloyd himself in a Pilot uniform is enough to put fear into the hearts of Pioneer pitchers. For the past four seasons he has been posting huge batting marks around the Sunset and Far West circuits.

The 31-year old catcher's biggest year was 1947 when he clubbed .386 for Reno in the Sunset. He served four seasons as a manager in that class C loop.

Several familiar faces are missing at the Boise training camp—Ned Sheehan, Jim Gilmore, Chuck Lamar, Jim O'Brien and Dick Conover to mention a few. They've shown a sharp disinclination toward pen and ink and Boise Owner Hyden Walker has yet to spy a signed contract from any of this particular threesome.

The reluctance of the veteran quintet, however, has paved the way for some dandy youngsters here.

Probably the outstanding prospect is Lee Gallup, a 200-pounder from Venice, Calif., who will undoubtedly prompt Pilot fans to forget about Sheehan. Gallup is a six foot first baseman who swats the ball with a vengeance.

Lloyd calls the left-handed 19-year-old "the best looking player in camp."

Gallup has readily nailed down the first base job.

Ernie Dibitti, out of San Francisco state college, is a rookie who has caught the eye of the Pilot manager. The husky 19-year-old is a mile above all contenders for the left field job and has hit squarely and often in spring games.

The Boise nine won't be without veterans.

Jimmy Valentine, one of the league's best center gardeners last summer, is back. Frank Gregory, a capable second sacker, looks improved. Pitcher Bill Franks, a 12-game winner in 1949 is developing the club late in June, has been bothered by pulled back and shoulder muscles but will be ready by early times—April 24.

Lloyd managed Porterville in 1948 through 1950. And from that now defunct Sunset league club came a pair of hurlers.

One, Ted Chamness, is a 6 foot, 3 inch righthander who won 12 games in 1949 and dropped out of baseball last summer. The other is Wayne Richards, another righthander, who notched a 7-2 mark in 1949, and, like Chamness, was idle during 1950.

Franks, Chamness and Richards present the starting trio of Boise hurlers and Owner Walker is hopeful his "gentleman's agreement" affiliation with the St. Louis Browns will produce at least two more knockers, with at least one southpaw.

On the relief side, Bill Miller, a rookie from Salt Lake City, may be retained as the club fireman.

Strength down the middle will be Boise's forte, especially when King takes over his shortstop berth. Lloyd behind the plate, King and Gregory at the keystone positions and Valentine in center will present a formidable bisection.

Also the sharp hitting four-some of Gregory, Gallup, Valentine and Lloyd will be bunched in the batting.

Boise finished a feeble seventh after a fast start last summer. So there's plenty of room for improvement. Youth and hustle could turn the Pilots into a contender, and Lloyd feels he has just that.

The Pilots open April 24 at Twin Falls, returning to Boise on the 25th to face those same Cowboys.

Dusette Meets Haddock In Wrestling Feature

George Dusette, powerful French-Canadian, returns here Wednesday night to take on Dale Haddock in the main event of the weekly wrestling program sponsored by the Twin Falls VFW. Dusette will be shooting for his third straight Twin Falls win.

The matches will be held on Wednesday for the first time this season and on a weekly basis on Wednesdays for the remainder of the current season. Bouts start at 8:30 p.m. in the Radio Rondevoo.

Popular Pierre LaBelle, favorite of the women fans, returns after a five-month absence to wrestle newcomer Herb Parks in the semifinal.

The opener also will see a newcomer in action in Carl Roberts, a Canadian, who, with rough and mean Tony Verdi.

Dusette has scored victories over Verdi and Bob Cummings in the past and he has scored all of his falls with his favorite hold, the full nelson, which he has developed into a sure winner whenever it is clamped on an opponent.

Haddock, will provide all the rough treatment Dusette can handle. Haddock, Pacific Coast light heavyweight champion, rarely is defeated.

LaBelle is going back into action after hospitalization for a broken arm. The Frenchman broke the arm shortly after leaving Twin Falls last fall.

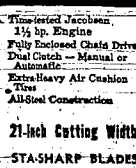

He is a strong and fast grappler, who will have his hands full with Parks, a rough and aggressive battler.

Verdi also will have his hands full in the opener. Roberts, a young and fast wrestler, has a good record in the ring.

Louis Reveals He May Drop Title Dreams

DETROIT, April 16 (UP) — Joe Louis revealed today that he will give up his campaign to regain the heavyweight championship unless champion Ezzard Charles agrees to a fall title fight.

"I'll just quit trying to win back the title if I can't get Charles in the ring with me by at least November. I don't figure I can keep a good edge on past that time," Louis said.

The former heavyweight king has made no secret of his disappointment at the postponement of his proposed June tussle with Charles when the latter reportedly transferred his contract to Jersey Joe Walcott last March.

"I was so set on fighting him right away that I agreed to only 40 per cent of the gate," Louis disclosed.

BABE WINS TOURNEY

DALLAS, Tex., April 16 (UP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias shot a 69, one of the lowest scores ever marked up by a woman, as she won the first leg of the traveling Weathervane golf tournament yesterday.

McDougald Opens Season Today With Yanks in Capital

NEW YORK, April 16 (U.P.)—The World champion York Yankees scoffed at tradition today by sending rookies to their opening day lineup for the first time in baseball history.

Manager Casey Stengel named two youngsters to start the game against Senators at Washington, and placed 19-year-old outfield sensation Mickey Mantle in right field and Gil McDougald on third base. He said he was pitching Morgan so he could save more experienced men for the more important series with the Boston Red Sox beginning here tomorrow.

Mantle and McDougald replace older and fumbling veterans who haven't come up to Stengel's standards this spring. Mantle subs for the weak-throwing Gene Woodling and McDougald is in for Billy Johnson.

The Washington-New York games are the American league and the Cincinnati-Pittsburgh game in the National open the season officially today. Then tomorrow the two leagues get down to serious business with a full schedule.

At New York the Yankees play the Red Sox, who are 6 to 5 favorites to win the American league pennant and the choice of the nation's baseball writers polled by the United Press. Cleveland plays at Detroit and Chicago plays at St. Louis in other American league day games and Washington is at Philadelphia in the league's first night opener in history.

In the National league the champion Phillies are at Brooklyn, St. Louis at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati at Chicago and New York at Boston.

The season gets an audacious start from Stengel's sudden lineup changes with the Yankees. Mantle, recently re-declared 4-F in the draft, hit .402 in spring training for the club this year after making the huge leap from Joplin, Mo. of the Western association. He smacked four straight hits, one of them a homerun, yesterday even though the Yanks lost their final exhibition game of the season to the Dodgers, 7-6.

Morgan played with Binghamton, N. Y., of the Eastern league last year and pitched a stretch of 36 straight innings without allowing an earned run this spring. McDougald was the Texas league's most valuable player with Beaumont last year. He got his pro start with the Twin Falls Cowboys in 1948.

The brilliant Ewell Blackwell, who won 17 games last year, pitches for the Reds against lefty Chet Nichols, a 12-game winner, in the National league opener today.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia are co-National league favorites at 2-1 and the New York Giants are second at 5-2, but the writers poll favored the Giants to win.

Grain

CHICAGO, April 16 (AP)—Small price gains were registered by grains today in a market dominated mainly by weather news.

Freezing weather in the winter wheat belt and more rain and snow in parts of the midwest caused some buying. Strength developed shortly after a mixed opening, and a slight slump toward the close did not wipe out earlier gains.

Wheat closed ⅛-1⅛ higher, May $2.49⅞-½; corn was ⅛-1⅛ higher, May $1.84-1.83½; oats were unchanged to ⅝ higher, May 95¼; rye (old style) was ¼ lower to ½ higher, May $1.98¼; soybeans were unchanged to 3¾ higher, September $3.26¾-3.27, and lard was 10 to 20 cents per 100 pounds higher, May $18.20.

Midwest Eyes Spring Flood Crest Threat

By United Press

The Mississippi river's mighty spring flood crest rolled southward today, imperiling thousands of lowland dwellers in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois.

The river's highest crest in 70 years was pouring past S. Paul, Minn., where 1,800 persons abandoned their homes to the lapping waters.

The Mississippi stood at a stage of 19.1 feet, inches below the all-time record of 19.7 feet set in 1881. Engineers expected it to remain stationery for 48 hours before the big "hill of water" passed.

Flood warnings were sounded hundreds of miles downstream.

Almost 500 persons took to high ground at Prairie Du Chein, Wis., and a Red Cross disaster team raced from St. Louis with anti-typhoid vaccine. The national guard aided rescue operations.

The coast guard cutter Syramore stood by for rescue missions at La Crosse, Wis., where 150 persons were forced to flee.

About 600 persons fled their homes at Winona and Red Wing, Minn.

The Red Cross set up a disaster station at Winona to handle large numbers of evacuees. Volunteers fought to raise the Winona levee as the city engineer warned that the river threatened to come over the top.

At Clinton, Ia., army engineers met with Mayor Don Ellison today to map plans for fighting the flood. The Clinton Red Cross chapter prepared shelters. Muscatine, Ia., braced for a record flood crest.

Outlying sections of St. Paul were hit hard. The river flooded the big South St. Paul stockyards and knocked several packing houses out of operation. Livestock were housed in upper floors to save them from drowning. All incoming stock shipments were halted.

Passenger Train Derailed; Several Persons Injured

CUT BANK, Mont., April 16 (AP)—The Great Northern Empire Builder passenger train, carrying 147 persons, was derailed today. First reports said no one was killed, but several were injured.

The 13-car train left Seattle at 3 p.m. (PST) yesterday. Four coaches and a "coffee shop" car went off the tracks.

Great Northern railroad headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., said the trains conductor reported he did not think anyone was hurt seriously.

There were 90 passengers in the coaches and 57 in Pullman cars.

The derailment occurred about 10 a.m. (MST) about one mile west of Cut Bank.

MOVIE STAR AILING

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 16 (UP)—Veteran movie star Warner Baxter, 60, who thrilled fans of '30s with his dashing roles, was "resting comfortably" today following an emergency operation.

500 Vases Prove Interesting Hobby

Mrs. P. C. Boss, Wendell, here inspects one of the vases in the 500-vase collection she has in her home. Mrs. Boss took up vase collecting after she gave up collecting rocks. All the rocks she collected ended in an outdoor fireplace at her Wendell home. (Staff photo-engraving)

Wendell Woman Collecting Vases Now Instead of Rocks

WENDELL, April 16—The hobby corner in the dining room of the home of Mrs. P. C. Boss is cluttered with vases. Big ones, little ones, plain ones and fancy ones. Mrs. Boss has been collecting them for 10 years. To date she has more than 500. In the entire collection there are only two alike.

Prior to collecting vases Mrs. Boss collected rocks. For many years her husband worked with the forest service and she had an opportunity to find many beautiful rocks. But after she and her husband moved in the farm the rocks were of a different kind and not very inspiring! To preserve her collection she built an out-of-door fireplace at her Wendell home.

Her largest vase is 7½ inches tall while the smallest is less than one-half inch. In among her collection is a large pottery vase brought by Boss' grandmother in a hand cart company to Utah. It was given to Mrs. Boss' by Boss' aunt in Ogden. There are other vases from England, Italy and Belgium. One oriental vase depicts the Chinese family tree, a method of genealogy with the Chinese.

Such vases come in pairs and if one should be broken it is the belief of the Chinese that it brings bad luck and the other must be broken, too. Mrs. Boss received hers by an elderly Chinese woman in Pocatello.

Mrs. Boss has several wooden vases and in this group is one she especially prizes. It is a small rosewood and black walnut vase made by Antone Braga, Gooding, a violin maker.

LDS in Wendell To Build Chapel

WENDELL, April 16 — Plans for building of a new chapel in connection with the present recreation hall were announced recently by officials of the Wendell LDS ward.

The chapel will cost $45,000. General church authorities will match every dollar raised for construction and Bishop Ray H. Dixon states that $12,000 will be raised locally. With contributed labor on the project this amount will be close to the half needed by the Wendell ward, he said.

Merlon Christensen, Ray Stanger and Farris Anderson have been named as a financial committee and have planned numerous projects to raise the money. Among the events will be weekly movies at the ward house, talent show, band performance in June under the direction of Wayne Skeem, primary children's dances, cooked food sales and dinners.

Teachers at G. F. Given Pay Boosts

GLENNS FERRY, April 16—Small raises were approved for teachers of Glenns Ferry school district No. 26 at a meeting of the board and budget committee with Supt. Ray Nims Friday night.

The board also voted to offer contracts to all present teachers for the 1951-52 term.

Considerable time was spent discussing budget plans for next year to conform to new school laws.

Officers Installed By Bellevue Unit

BELLEVUE, April 16—Mrs. Milton E. Schaefer recently was installed as president of the Bellevue PTA. Mrs. Glenn Chaney was the installing officer. Others who were installed were Mrs. Heber Bowcutt, vice president; Mrs. Walter Kohler, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Wright, treasurer.

Leroy Kiernie, Twin Falls, was speaker at the meeting. He was introduced by Mrs. Willis McKercher.

The first public appearance of the school band, under the direction of John M. Vining, was held prior to the meeting. The Tonette group from the fifth and sixth grades presented several selections.

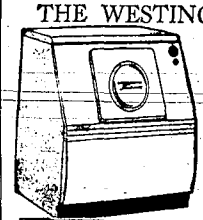

Committees were appointed to plan and serve the junior-senior banquet April 21. They are Mrs. McKearcher, menu; Mrs. Sidney Drager, waitresses; Mrs. Leon Calhoun, tables; Mrs. Heber Bowcutt and Mrs. Everett Campbell, kitchen.

Hailstones as big as small grapefruit and weighing a pound and a half have been recorded.

ENLISTS

FAIRFIELD, April 16—Joe Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baldwin, has enlisted in the navy and left today for Salt Lake City. From there he will go to San Diego, Calif.
